Private Entertainment

Traditionally weddings and large private parties have taken place in hotel venues; but it is now considered to be a very stylish option to entertain ones' guests in the home. For most, this is not a viable option, due to area and space restrictions. However, dreams can really become a reality with the provision of world class dining facilities with the elegance of a hotel banqueting suite provided outdoors with one of our luxurious pavilions.

The beauty of home entertainment is that - unlike a permanent venue, one is not restricted by given schedules and times, colour options, food choices etc. Clients can decide their own dates and choose any large variety of fare.

Select from small garden marquees to dramatic structures that accommodate thousands of guests. Create atmosphere, interior colour and perfection. We will be of assistance with all of your arrangements, including: catering, furniture, cloakrooms, heat, electrical requirements and any other needs that you may have making this an individual event for you.

History

Coopers Marquees create unusual, dramatic and professionally built environments for private and corporate hospitality, the sporting world, exhibitions and the music industry.

Coopers have been trading in the Marquee sector for over 20 years. The original business was founded by Tim Cooper, still the Managing Director of Coopers Marquees. Based on two decades of experience, the Company prides itself on delivering a quality marquee hire service. We are market conscious and customer friendly and have a reputation for unrivalled personal service.

Coopers Marquees only use highly innovative state of the art equipment designed and created for ourselves by a Dutch manufacturer, Neptunus, who have left no stone unturned in their attention to quality, safety, appearance, and functionality. This futuristic design and exemplary quality and technology, combined with the committed approach by the Company's owners and employees, make us a reliable partner and consultant.

Coopers Marquees can offer you the Evolution Structure which is a robust and sturdy construction that can be left up for several years. It has a double skinned roof which is filled with air, and it boasts fully insulated wall panels that provide ideal working temperatures. This structure provides spacious temporary accommodation with the look and feel of a permanent building. It is also possible to install a mezzanine floor to utilise the available space even better. Evolution is ideal for exhibitions, concerts, very stylish corporate entertainment, airport facilities, retail solutions and has many other applications. Due to its tensioned roof system Evolution can withstand windspeeds unlike other semi permanent buildings.

Evolution comes in Clearspan widths of 25m, 30m, 35m, 40m, 45m, 50m, 55m and 60m. The internal height ranges from 3.5 metres to 9.5 metres. This is a stunning structure, quite revolutionary and knows no boundaries.
